

The refund policy states that students may request a refund within 14 days of course registration. Refund eligibility depends on the reason for withdrawal and whether the course materials have been accessed.

If a student drops a course before the refund deadline, the tuition fee may be reimbursed minus administrative charges. After the deadline, refunds are not guaranteed and are handled case by case by the finance office.